

Professor Dame Sue Bailey OBE DBE

Professor Bailey was made an OBE in 2002 for services to Mental Health and young offenders and in 2013 and made a DBE for services to Psychiatry and for voluntary service to People with Mental Health Conditions. She is a Consultant Child and Adolescent Forensic psychiatrist and Professor of Mental Health Policy in North West of England. She is also Non-Executive Director for UHSM – University Hospitals South Manchester. Her research interests include development of needs and risk assessment measures for use with young offenders with mental illness and development of community and secure inpatient treatment for young offenders both nationally and internationally.

She has contributed to policy development as a past President of the Royal College of Psychiatrists, where she worked with health and social care professionals, patients and carers to help bring about Parity of Esteem between mental and physical health which is now enshrined in Primary Legislation in England. Her current roles include : Senior Clinical Advisor for Mental Health and Learning Disability for Health Education England; Chair, Academy of Medical Royal Colleges. Her international roles include: Chair of UEMS CAP Section, elected member of EPA Council, secretary of EFCAP and member of programmes meeting of the WPA.